

PUB COMPANY ON LOOK OUT FOR WILLENHALL LANDLORDS

Pub goers who have always fancied swapping sides of the bar are invited to attend an open day at The County pub in Willenhall on Tuesday 9 June.

Admiral Taverns is hosting an event at the Walsall Street pub, between 1pm and 4pm, giving people the chance find out more about the pub industry and what it takes to be a landlord.

Ian Murray, business development manager for Admiral Taverns, will be on hand to provide information about what support is available to both industry newcomers and people who already have pub experience.

Ian said: "We have number of available pubs in the area that we're confident can be turned into thriving businesses with the right people behind the bar.

"With an estate of over 2,000 pubs nationwide we're always on the lookout for landlords with the right personality and attitude. In this industry, experience isn't necessary but having the drive and stamina to run a pub well is crucial.

"The event on Tuesday is designed to tell people more about how to get started and make the most of a pub business. We encourage our landlords to run our pubs their way and offer great choice and flexibility in terms of tenancy and lease agreements, along with substantial support from our team of business development managers, to make sure all of our pubs are a success."

Anyone interested in running a pub can visit The County, Walsall Street, Willenhall, WV13 2EX on Tuesday 9 June between 1pm and 4pm. For more information, contact Admiral Taverns' recruitment team on 0845 070 8950 or visit www.admiraltaverns.com.
